

REQUIEM OF THE FALLEN

Fade away to the edge of the world
It's your time and the end is close Fade away into the unknown
You seemed to disappear into thin air

Tomorrow could be the end of it all Today's the last of many downfalls You've been fighting for too long now trying to keep the spirit alive

Standing at the helm of your destiny
Standing at the crossroad of world to come
Searching - seeking What's become of fate?

Where the candles fade you find the answers Where you've been given relief then you'll see

Standing at the helm of your destiny
of world to come
Searching - seeking
What's become of fate?

Where angels burn you found the answers Where the sun is a shadow you found the key
